-----XVERIFIED COMPLAINT

The Plaintiff, Marimed Shipping Inc. (hereinafter "Plaintiff"), by its attorneys, Tisdale Law Offices, LLC, as and for its Verified Complaint against the Defendants, Persian Gulf Shipping Co. Inc. a/k/a Persian Gulf Shipping Co. Ltd. a/k/a PGSC (hereinafter "PGSC") and PGSC Marine Ltd. (hereinafter "PGSC Marine")(collectively referred to as "Defendants") allege, upon information and belief, as follows:

1. This is an admiralty and maritime claim within the meaning of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 9(h) and 28 United States Code § 1333.

2. At all material times, Plaintiff was and still is an entity duly organized and existing by virtue of foreign law with a principal place of business in Monrovia, Liberia.

3. Upon information and belief, at all material times, Defendant PGSC was and still is an entity duly organized and existing by virtue of the laws of Anguilla.

4. Upon information and belief, at all material times, Defendant PGSC Marine was and still is an entity duly organized and existing by virtue of the laws of Anguilla.

5. By a time charter party dated June 21, 2007, Plaintiff, disponent owner, chartered the motor vessel "CENTAURUS" (hereinafter the "Vessel") to the Defendant PGSC, as charterer, for a period of about 6 to 8 months  $\pm$  15 days in charterers' option via safeports.

6. Certain disputes arose between the parties regarding the Vessel's late redelivery, PGSC's failure to pay hire and other breaches of the charter party.

7. Specifically, PGSC has failed to pay hire in the total principal sum of $75,098.83. See Hire Statement annexed hereto as Exhibit "1."

8. Furthermore, PGSC redelivered the Vessel on April 11, 2008, twenty-three (23) days after the agreed upon redelivery date of March 19, 2008.

9. As a result, the Plaintiff has suffered damages in the principal sum of $992,000 for the lost opportunity of securing further employment for the Vessel at the market rate of $45,000 per day for the period from March 19, 2008 to April 20, 2008 less the hire payable to head owners for this period.

10. Further, the Defendant was unjustly enriched by the profits made by the Vessel during the period from March 19, 2008 to April 20, 2008 and, as such, Plaintiff has suffered damages in the estimate principal sum of $1,100,000 for the defendant PGSC's unjust enrichment.

11. As a result of Defendant PGSC's breach of the charter party contract, Plaintiff has suffered losses in the total principal sum of $2,167,098.80, as best can now be estimated, exclusive of interest, recoverable costs and reasonable attorneys' fees.

12. Despite due demand, the Defendant has failed to pay the sums due and owing to the Plaintiff under the charter party.

13. Pursuant to the charter party, all disputes arising thereunder are to be submitted to arbitration in London with English law to apply.

14. In accordance with the charter party, the Plaintiff has commenced arbitration and appointed its arbitrator.

15. Interest, costs and attorneys' fees are routinely awarded to the prevailing party in London proceedings pursuant to English Law. As best as can now be estimated, Plaintiff expects to recover the following amounts in arbitration:

A.	Principal claim:	$2,167,098.80
B.	Estimated interest on the principal claim at 7.5% for three years	$474,969.25
C.	Attorneys fees and arbitration costs:	$150,000.00
Total:		$2,792,068.05

16. Defendant PGSC Marine is the alter ego of Defendant PGSC because PGSC dominates and disregards PGSC Marine's corporate form to the extent that PGSC is actually carrying on the business and operations of PGSC Marine as if the same were its own.

17. Upon information and belief, Defendant PGSC Marine is a shell-corporation through which Defendant PGSC conducts its business.

18. Upon information and belief, Defendant PGSC Marine has no separate, independent identity from Defendant PGSC.

19. Upon information and belief, Defendants PGSC Marine and PGSC share a common registered address at: The Hansa Bank Building, 1st Floor, Landsome Road, The Valley, Anguilla.

20. Upon information and belief, Defendant PGSC Marine and PGSC share a common registered agent: Mr. Samuel McCleary.

21. Upon information and belief, Defendant PGSC Marine acts as paying agent, or receiving agent or arranges for other non-parties to satisfy the debts and obligations of Defendant PGSC and/or receive payments being made to Defendant PGSC.

22. Although PGSC Marine was not named in the charter parties, and had no formal relationship to the charters of the Vessel, PGSC Marine made a payment to the Plaintiff on PGSC's behalf. See wire remittance annexed hereto as Exhibit "2."

23. Upon information and belief, Defendant PGSC uses Defendant PGSC Marine as a "pass through" entity such that it can insulate itself from creditors relating to its commercial obligations.

24. It is not common practice in the maritime industry for an independent company to pay another company's debt, where it has no formal relationship to the underlying charter parties.

25. The Defendant cannot be found within this District within the meaning of Rule B of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, but, upon information and belief, Defendants have, or will have during the pendency of this action, assets within this District and subject to the jurisdiction of this Court, held in the hands of garnishees including, but not limited to, ABN-AMRO, American Express Bank, Bank of America, Bank of New York, Deutsche Bank, Citibank, HSBC Bank USA Bank, J.P. Morgan Chase, Standard Chartered Bank and/or Wachovia Bank N.A., which are believed to be due and owing to the Defendant.

26. The Plaintiff seeks an order from this Court directing the Clerk of Court to issue Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment pursuant to Rule B of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims attaching any assets of the Defendant held by the aforesaid garnishees for the purpose of obtaining personal jurisdiction over the Defendant, and to secure the Plaintiff's claims as described above.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays:

A. That process in due form of law issue against the Defendants, citing them to appear and answer under oath all and singular the matters alleged in the Complaint;

B. That since the Defendants cannot be found within this District pursuant to Rule B of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims, this Court issue an Order directing the Clerk of Court to issue Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment pursuant to Rule B of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims and federal common law attaching all tangible or intangible property in whatever form or any other funds held by any garnishee, including, but not limited to, ABN-AMRO, American Express Bank, Bank of America, Bank of New York, Deutsche Bank, Citibank, HSBC Bank USA Bank, J.P. Morgan Chase, Standard Chartered Bank and/or Wachovia Bank N.A. which are due and owing to the Defendants, in the amount of $2,792,068.05 to secure the Plaintiff's claims, and that all persons claiming any interest in the same be cited to appear and pursuant to Supplemental Admiralty Rule B answer the matters alleged in the Verified Complaint;

C. That this Court recognize and confirm any foreign judgment/award of costs on the claims had herein as a judgment of this Court;

D. That this Court retain jurisdiction over this matter through the entry of any judgment or award associated with any of the claims currently pending, or which may be initiated in the future, including any appeals thereof; and

E. That the Plaintiff have such other, further and different relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

ECF CASE

AFFIDAVIT IN SUPPORT OF PRAYER FOR MARITIME ATTACHMENT

State of Connecticut )
 ) ss: SOUTHPORT County of Fairfield )

Lauren C. Davies, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

1. I am a member of the Bar of this Court and represent the Plaintiff herein. I am familiar with the facts of this case and make this Affidavit in support of Plaintiff's prayer for the issuance of a Writ of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment, pursuant to Rule B of the Supplemental Admiralty Rules of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

DEFENDANTS ARE NOT PRESENT IN THE DISTRICT

2. I have attempted to locate the Defendants, PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO. INC. a/k/a PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO. LTD. a/k/a PGSC and PGSC MARINE LTD., within this District. As part of my investigation to locate the Defendants within this District, I checked the telephone company information directory, as well as the white and yellow pages for New York listed on the Internet or World Wide Web, and did not find any listing for the Defendants.

3. I also checked the New York State Department of Corporations' online database, which showed a listing for PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO. INC. as having registered to do business in New York or April 10, 2008. See NY Department of State Division of Corporations Entity Information annexed hereto as Exhibit "1."

4. Despite this registration to do business and the appointment of a DOS Process server, I submit that the Defendants cannot be found within this District within the meaning of Rule B of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims.

5. According to the Second Circuit, in order for a defendant to be "found within the district," a two pronged test must be met. First, the defendant must be "found within the district in terms of jurisdiction, and second, if so, whether it can be found for service of process." Seawind Compania, S.A. v. Crescent Line, Inc., 320 F. 2d 580, 582 (2d Cir. 1963); quoted in Erne Shipping Inc. v. HBC Hamburg Bulk Carriers GMBH & Co., 409 F. Supp. 2d 427, 432 (S.D.N.Y. 2006).

6. Here, the defendant can be found for service of process but not in terms of jurisdiction as mere registration to do business alone is not enough to be "found" for the purposes of Rule B. As stated by the Court in Erne, "neither policy underlying Rule B is vindicated by predicated jurisdiction on a mere filing for authorization to do business under the Business Corporation Law. Accordingly, we do not consider such filing to be sufficient to make a showing that a defendant is "found" within the district." See Erne Shipping, 409 F. Supp. 2d at 438 (overruled on other grounds); but see Centauri Shipping Ltd. v. Western Bulk Carriers KS, 528 F. Supp. 2d 187 (S.D.N.Y. 2007).

7. Upon information and belief, the Defendants has, or will have during the pendency of this action, tangible and intangible property within the District in the hands of ABN

Amro, American Express Bank, Bank of America, Bank of New York, Citibank, Deutsche Bank, HSBC (USA) Bank, J.P. Morgan Chase, Standard Chartered Bank and/or Wachovia Bank N.A.

PRAYER FOR ORDER ALLOWING SPECIAL PROCESS SERVER

8. Plaintiff seeks an order pursuant to Rule 4(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, for an Order appointing Thomas L. Tisdale, Claurisse A. Campanale-Orozco, Lauren C. Davies or any other partner, associate, paralegal or other agent of TISDALE LAW OFFICES, LLC to serve the Verified Complaint, Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment, Interrogatories or other process in this action, in addition to the U.S. Marshall to serve the Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment and the Verified Complaint, together with any Interrogatories, upon the garnishee(s), together with any other garnishee(s) who, based upon information developed subsequent hereto by the Plaintiff, may hold property of, for or on account of the Defendants.

9. Plaintiff seeks to serve the prayed for Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment with all deliberate speed so that it may be fully protected against the potential of being unable to satisfy an award/judgment ultimately obtained and entered against the Defendants.

10. To the extent that this application for an Order appointing a special process server with respect to this attachment and garnishment does not involved a restraint of physical property, there is no need to require that the service be effected by the Marshal as it involves simple delivery of the Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment to the various garnishees to be identified in the writ.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF TO SERVE LATER IDENTIFIED GARNISHEES

11. Plaintiff also respectfully requests that the Court grant it leave to serve any additional garnishee(s) who may, upon information and belief obtained in the course of this litigation to be holding, or believed to be holding, property of the Defendants, within this District. Obtaining leave of Court at this time to serve any later identified garnishees will allow for prompt service of the Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment without the need to present to the court amended Process seeking simply to identify other garnishee(s).

PRAYER FOR RELIEF TO DEEM SERVICE CONTINUOUS

12. Further, in order to avoid the need to repetitively serve the garnishees/banks, Plaintiff respectfully seeks further leave of the Court, as set out in the accompanying Ex Parte Order for Process of Maritime Attachment, for any process that is served on a garnishee to be deemed effective and continuous service of process throughout any given day on which process is served through the next day, provided that process is served the next day, to authorize service of process via facsimile or e-mail following initial in personam service.

13. This is Plaintiff's first request for this relief made to any Court.

EX PARTE ORDER FOR PROCESS OF MARITIME ATTACHMENT

WHEREAS, on May 2, 2008 Plaintiff, MARIMED SHIPPING INC., filed a Verified Complaint herein for damages amounting to $2,792,068.05 inclusive of interest, costs and reasonable attorney's fees, and praying for the issuance of Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment pursuant to Rule B of the Supplemental Admiralty Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims of the Federal Rules and Civil Procedure; and

WHEREAS, the Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment would command that the United States Marshal or other designated process server attach any and all of the Defendants' property within the District of this Court; and

WHEREAS, the Court has reviewed the Verified Complaint and the Supporting Affidavit, and the conditions of Supplemental Admiralty Rule B appearing to exist, it is hereby

ORDERED, that Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment shall issue against all tangible or intangible property belonging to, claimed by or being held for the Defendants by any garnishees within this District, including but not limited to, ABN Amro, American Express Bank, Bank of America, Bank of New York, Citibank, Deutsche Bank, HSBC (USA) Bank, JP

Morgan Chase, Standard Chartered Bank and/or Wachovia Bank, in an amount up to and including $2,792,068.05, pursuant to Rule B of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure; and it is further

ORDERED that any person claiming an interest in the property attached or garnished pursuant to said order shall, upon application to the Court, be entitled to a prompt hearing at which the Plaintiff shall be required to show cause why the attachment and garnishment should not be vacated or other relief granted; and it is further

ORDERED that supplemental process enforcing the Court's Order may be issued by the Clerk upon application without further Order of the Court; and it is further

ORDERED that following initial service by the United States Marshal or other designated process server upon each garnishee, that supplemental service of the Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment, as well as this Order, may be made by way of facsimile transmission or other verifiable electronic means, including e-mail, to each garnishee; and it is further

ORDERED that service on any garnishee as described above is deemed effective continuous service throughout the day from the time of such service through the opening of the garnishee's business the next business day; and it is further

ORDERED that pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 5(b)(2)(D) each garnishee may consent, in writing, to accept service by any other means; and it is further

ORDERED that a copy of this Order be attached to and served with said Process of Maritime Attachment and Garnishment.

Plaintiff,

DECLARATION

-against-

PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO., INC. a/k/a
PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO. LTD. a/k/a
PGSC and PGSC MARINE LTD.,

Defendants.
-----X

I, MASOOD TARIQ, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am the GENERAL MANAGER of defendant PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO., INC. (PGSC) a/k/a PERSIAN GULF SHIPPING CO. LTD. a/k/a PGSC and PGSC MARINE LTD. Based upon my personal knowledge and my review of the file maintained by my office, I am familiar with the facts and circumstances of the above-captioned action.

2. PGSC specializes in the carriage of bulk fertilizer, sulphur, coal cement, and steel and has been actively involved with the carriage of these products for many years. It is well known in these trades and regularly transports more than two million tonnes of cargo to and from the United States, as well as Morocco, the United Kingdom, and other countries.

3. All of PGSC's contracts involving counter-parts in New York are too numerous to mention. PGSC has chartered several vessels from United States based owners. Indeed, the M/V CENTAURUS, very ship implicated in the instant dispute, was under time charter with The Rice Company, of the United States.

4. PGSC also took the M/V GOMAIN NABEE under charter from United States owners on October 27, 2007, a fact which plaintiff should know well, since the plaintiff is currently sub-chartering it. Moreover, that charter calls for New York arbitration, which PGSC soon intends to commence against plaintiff for failure to pay hire.

5. In fact, many of PGSC's charters routinely include New York arbitration clauses. PGSC has taken the M/V TITAN on charter from Phoenix Bulk Carriers, for example, also with mandatory New York jurisdiction. PGSC has also previously availed itself of the jurisdiction of this Court in bringing suit on an unrelated matter.

6. PGSC has further chartered the M/V BEL ANA for three to five months from Jebsens International (USA) Inc., registered in New Jersey. PGSC also regularly transports cargo for Conagra Fertilizers (USA), which has offices in New York. PGSC has chartered the M/V ROCKAWAY BELLE to Conagra recently for carriage of Urea from the Arabian Gulf to the United States.

7. And PGSC has for many years used the brokerage firm of Bulk Chem Chartering Corporation in New York to book Conagra, as well as other contracts. PGSC also employs the services of Mid Ship New York, Skaarup Shipbroking, and TFS Freight.

8. Another major United States client of PGSC is Oxbow International, for which PGSC has contracted cargo regularly, using Skearup Shipbroking of Connecticut, also in the grater New York metropolitan area, to book those cargoes.

9. PGSC has also recently contracted with Transworld Cargo Carriers, New York based owners of the M/V TUCKAHOE MAIDEN,

10. Currently we are in negotiations for a contract of carriage of one million tonnes of coal from New York to the United Kingdom which we expect to conclude by the end of this month.

11. And PGSC employs MR S SHAUKAT of 16FR CAPODANNO BLVD - APTE2R - STATEN ISLAND, NEW YORK - NY 10305 - USA on a commission basis to solicit cargo bookings in New York and for marketing purposes.

12. The above are only examples. In short, PGSC regularly solicits business in New York, charters ships to or from the Port of New York, contracts with parties with New York offices, and employs the services of brokers in the New York area.

13. Moreover, in 2007, in furtherance of its aim to concentrate on the needs of its customer bases in the London and New York, and to further strengthen and increase its chartering activities there, PGSC decided to open offices in London and New York. Accordingly, an office has been opened in London and PGSC duly registered to do business in the State of New York. PGSC designated an agent for service of process in New York City, and is in the process of planning the staffing and setting up a full office.

14. If the above is somehow not enough, I again reiterate that PGSC consents to the personal jurisdiction of the New York courts in this and other matters.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Finally, it should be noted for the record that the complaint's allegations concerning the merits of this dispute are largely false, and the damages claim, though still completely unsupported, appears to have increased exponentially since it was first presented by plaintiff's solicitors. Plaintiff was obligated to redeliver the vessel to head owners by April 15, 2008, and PGSC paid all hire through April 11, 2008, when, after the vessel had been redelivered by PGSC's sub-charterers, plaintiff redelivered the vessel to head owners. In fact, plaintiff has suffered no actual loss in this case. Plaintiff's claim appears to be no more than a "preemptive strike," since it is well-known to the parties that the vessel had constant engine failures and consistently underperformed throughout the period of the charter in clear breach of the charter party. PGSC will present a counter-claim for damages in any arbitration and reserves the right to seek counter-security, as well as a reduction in the amount of the attachment, should this attachment be sustained.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct.

THE COURT: Good afternoon, counsel.

This case is before the court on the defendant's motion to vacate an order of maritime attachment that was entered on March 29, 2006. The parties appeared for a hearing on May 2 and I promised to decide the matter by this afternoon.

After considering the arguments presented at the hearing and contained in the parties' papers and the subsequent submissions made by both sides, the court will now grant the defendant's motion and vacate the attachment.

Under Rule 8 of the Supplemental Rules of Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claim, a plaintiff may attach a defendant's property within the district if the plaintiff's claim is a maritime action and if the defendant is not found within the district. The defendant has challenged the validity of plaintiff's attachment and, therefore, plaintiff has the burden to show that the attachment was proper. In this case the dispute regarding the propriety of the attachment centers

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

on whether the defendant, Novel, can be found within the district for the purposes of Rule 8.

A defendant is found within the district if it is both, one, found within the district for purposes of jurisdiction and, two, found within the district for purposes of service of process. That is Seawind Compania, S.A., versus Crescent Line Incorporated, 320 F.2d 580 at 582, (2d Cir. 1963).

The plaintiff argues that under this test the defendant was not found in the district because plaintiff engaged in a diligent search for the defendant and didn't find him. This argument is without merit for two reasons:

First, plaintiff's reliance on the diligence of its search is misplaced. There is case law supporting the proposition that a diligent search that fails to uncover defendant's agent for service of process is sufficient to satisfy the service prong inquiry even if the defendant does, in fact, have an agent for process within the district. See, for example, West of England Ship Owners Mutual Insurance Association versus MacAllister Brothers Incorporated, 829 F. Supp. 122 at 123 to 24, Eastern District of Pennsylvania, 1993.

The applicability of this rule to the service prong makes some degree of sense. A defendant should not be able to avoid suit by hiding an agent away from potential plaintiffs thereby forcing the plaintiff to attach property before the

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

defendant comes forward to reveal the hidden agent. In such a situation a determination that a defendant is not found within the district for service of process despite the fact that there was an agent within the district serves as a sort of penalty rule to discourage any hidden agent tactics.

Plaintiff has pointed to no case, however, that applies this doctrine to the jurisdiction prong of the inquiry, and the rationale that underpins the doctrine on the service issue does not extend to the jurisdiction issue.

Second, regardless of the applicability of plaintiff's argument regarding what was knowable at the time of the search, the record reveals that plaintiff did, in fact, know all the relevant facts. Plaintiff did find by going to the office of

654YEXPC.txt

14 the New York Secretary of State that defendant had a registered 15 agent for service of process within the district. In fact, in 16 arguing that its search was diligent, plaintiff asserts that 17 the search "revealed the very items which defendant now asserts
 18 constituted its presence." Plaintiff's memorandum at pages 2
 19 to 3.

20 The issue for the court, therefore, is not the 21 diligence of plaintiff's search, but, rather, whether the facts
 22 uncovered by that search, the same facts asserted by the 23 defendant, lead to the conclusion that the defendant can be 24 found within this district.

25 As previously mentioned, the determination of whether
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

654YEXPC

1 a defendant is found within the district for purposes of Rule B
 2 is governed by the two-prong Seawind test.

3 Taking the second prong of the test first, it is clear
 4 that defendant is found in the district for service of process
 5 purposes. Plaintiff admits that the defendant has designated 6 an agent for service of process with the New York Secretary of 7 State.

8 Plaintiff argues, however, that defendant nevertheless 9 may not be found within the district for purposes of service of 10 process because when plaintiff's attorney called the offices of 11 defendant's agent, the person who answered the phone was unable 12 to confirm that the agent was authorized to accept service on 13 behalf of defendant. Plaintiff provides no information with 14 regard to who this person on the phone was or whether he or she 15 is expected to know anything about defendant's agreement with 16 the agent to accept service on defendant's behalf. Plaintiff
 17 did not attempt to follow up on the phone call nor did it
 18 attempt to serve defendant via the agent. One inconclusive
 19 phone call is insufficient to carry plaintiff's burden of 20 showing that the defendant is not found in the district for 21 purposes of service, especially in light of the parties'
 22 agreement that the defendant does, in fact, have a registered
 23 agent on file with the Secretary of State and the fact that
 24 plaintiff actually and without difficulty discovered that fact
 25 and defendant's averment that the agent is, in fact, authorized

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

654YEXPC

1 to accept service.

2 Turning now to the first jurisdictional prong of the 3 inquiry, the court also finds that defendant can be found
 4 within this district for purposes of jurisdiction. To satisfy
 5 this test, a defendant must "be engaged in sufficient activity
 6 in the district to subject it to jurisdiction even in the 7 absence of a resident agent expressly authorized to accept
 8 process." Seawind, 320 F.2d at 383.

9 Plaintiff argues that a defendant may only be found
 10 within the district if it engages in substantial commercial
 11 activity within the district. Essentially, the plaintiff's 12 view is that whether defendant is subject to suit in the 13 district is irrelevant and that what matters is the sum of 14 defendant's activities in the district regardless of the 15 connection between those activities and any requirements of 16 personal jurisdiction.

17 However, our Court of Appeals rejected that rule in 18 Seawind by stating the jurisdiction prong can be met by a

654YEXPC.txt

19 showing of specific personal jurisdiction arising from the 20 particular claims there at issue even if the defendant's
 21 broader activities were insufficient to establish general
 22 jurisdiction.
 23 Accordingly, this court interprets the jurisdiction
 24 prong of the inquiry to require only that the courts of this 25 district have personal jurisdiction over the defendant whatever
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

654YEXPC

1 the basis of that jurisdiction may be. And, indeed, to the 2 extent that Rule B attachments are designed at least in part to 3 secure jurisdiction in situations where because of the lack of 4 presence of the defendant within the jurisdiction in personam
 5 jurisdiction cannot be obtained, it certainly seems to make 6 sense to interpret the inquiry in just that way.
 7 In this case the defendant is subject to suit in the 8 courts of this district and, therefore, may be found here for 9 purposes of jurisdiction. This is so for two reasons:
 10 First, the defendant has stated on the record that it
 11 would submit to an order issued by this court to compel
 12 resolution of the underlying dispute in arbitration in London
 13 as required by the charter party, thus, defendant has 14 specifically consented to the jurisdiction of this court.
 15 Second, defendant is a registered foreign corporation
 16 within the state of New York and under New York law a
 17 corporation that registers to do business within the state
 18 consents to general jurisdiction in the courts of the state.
 19 See Iyalla versus TRT Holdings Incorporated, 2005 Westlaw
 20 1765707 at page star 3, (S.D.N.Y. July 25, 2005). Accordingly,
 21 defendant is subject to suit in the courts of this district
 22 and, therefore, defendant may be found within the district for 23 purposes of jurisdiction.
 24 The cases relied upon by plaintiff do not compel a
 25 contrary conclusion. First and foremost, plaintiff cites only
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

654YEXPC

1 to opinions of district courts and magistrate judges and so to 2 the extent that those jurisdictions are contrary to governing
 3 Second Circuit authority, this court must follow its own best
 4 understanding of circuit case law in preference to that of 5 courts of parallel authority.
 6 Second, the cases cited do not support plaintiff's
 7 contention that only substantial commercial activity makes a
 8 court finding that a defendant is found within the district for 9 purposes of jurisdiction. To the contrary, the cases cited by 10 plaintiff support the conclusion that the relevant issue is 11 amenability to suit.
 12 For example, in Federazione, a case relied on heavily
 13 by plaintiff, the district court inquired into defendant's
 14 business activity within the district, but only insofar as that 15 activity related to the question of whether it was "unfair or 16 unreasonable to require defendant to respond to suit in this 17 forum." Federazione Italiana versus Mandask Compania De
 18 Vapores, S.A., 158 F. Supp. 107 at 109, S.D.N.Y. 1957).
 19 Similarly, in Bay Casino, the district court listed
 20 substantial commercial activity as just one of many ways in 21 which a defendant could be found within the district for 22 purposes of jurisdiction, along with, for example, breaching a
 23 contract within the district or signing a forum selection

654YEXPC.txt

24 clause. Bay Casino, LLC versus M/V Royal Empress, 20 F. Supp.
 25 2d 440 at 451, (S.D.N.Y. 1998). If signing a forum selection
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

654YEXPC

1 clause is sufficient to render a defendant present within the 2 jurisdiction, it must follow that the key issue is whether the 3 defendant is amenable to suit for whatever reason and not the 4 extent of his physical or commercial presence within the 5 district.

6 The only case cited by plaintiff that appears to adopt
 7 its substantial activity interpretation of the jurisdiction
 8 test is Erne Shipping Incorporated versus HBC Hamburg Bulk
 9 Carriers GmbH & Co., 409 F. Supp. 2d 427, (S.D.N.Y. 2006).

10 Aside from the fact that Erne appears to this court to 11 be in conflict with Seawind, this court does not find the 12 reasoning of Erne persuasive. The magistrate judge in Erne
 13 concluded that the defendant's registration to do business in 14 New York and the accompanying consent to general jurisdiction
 15 was insufficient to amount to being found in the district for 16 purposes of jurisdiction. The court's conclusion was based on 17 an analysis of the purposes of maritime attachment, which it
 18 concluded require actual presence based on actual activity
 19 within the district.

20 First, the court concluded that actual presence would 21 make it more likely that assets would be found within the 22 district to provide security for plaintiff. This appears 23 inapposite. A Rule B attachment presupposes that there are 24 assets in the district, assets that have already been attached.

25 Second, the court concluded that registration would
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

10

654YEXPC

1 not guarantee defendant's presence in the district because
 2 registration can be withdrawn.

3 While that observation is technically true, it is also 4 somewhat irrelevant. Once a registered corporate defendant is 5 sued and served within the district, it is too late for the 6 defendant to revoke its registration. The defendant is subject
 7 to the jurisdiction of the court and any proceedings necessary
 8 to secure the defendant's presence can be taken by the court
 9 pursuant to the Federal Rules. If not wanting to submit to the 10 power of the district court the defendant subsequently revokes
 11 its registration, that would have no effect on any pending
 12 litigation, and future plaintiffs then would be able to utilize
 13 Rule B attachment. Essentially, Rule B gives potential 14 defendants a choice; either they subject themselves to the 15 courts of the district or they open up the possibility that 16 their property in the district will be attached.

17 Defendant is found and was found by the plaintiff
 18 within the district for the purposes of service of process and 19 for the purposes of jurisdiction. Therefore, defendant was 20 found within the district under Rule B and the attachment must 21 be vacated.

22 The parties devote considerable attention to an issue
 23 that has divided the judges in this district, whether on a 24 motion to vacate a Rule B attachment a plaintiff must show, in 25 addition to satisfying the explicit requirements of Rule B,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

11

654YEXPC.txt

654YEXPC

1 that the attachment is fair or accords with the purposes of the 2 rule.

3 Because this court has determined that the 4 requirements, the technical requirements of Rule B are not 5 satisfied, it is not necessary to reach that issue. The 6 requirements of Rule B have not been met and, therefore,
7 defendant's motion to vacate the attachment is granted.

8 Okay. I think that resolves the attachment issue and 9 the question then is, is there anything else that remains of 10 this action?

11 If the action were solely for purposes of securing the 12 attachment, then I suggest that it be withdrawn. If the 13 complaint on the other hand seeks to have the defendant submit
14 to arbitration, the defendant has already stipulated in open
15 court that it would do so and I think that probably renders the 16 action moot, but maybe the best way to do that is to enter that 17 stipulation in writing and then, in effect, dismiss the case as 18 settled on that basis, but I will leave it to the parties to 19 discuss that and see what is going to happen next.

20 I guess just to put a terminus on it, if I don't hear
21 something different from the parties within, let's say,
22 essentially ten days, by a week from Monday, then I will
23 dismiss the action as moot.

24 All right. Anything else that we need to do today?

25 MR. DUFFY: May, your Honor, we issue a formal order,

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

12

654YEXPC

1 because we need to present it to the garnishee.

2 THE COURT: Yes. We will put out the order right away
3 for reasons stated in open court on this date on the record the 4 attachment is vacated. If you want some other form of order
5 you can submit it.

6 MR. DUFFY: So the garnishee is satisfied.

7 THE COURT: Right. That ought to do it.

8 Yes.

9 MR. UNGER: Your Honor, a couple of things.

10 There is a ten day automatic stay that applies to the 11 release of the funds by the garnishee. I would ask that your 12 Honor keep that stay in place so that the funds remain, because 13 I believe my client is going to instruct an appeal of your 14 Honor's order.

15 THE COURT: If it is an automatic stay, then there is 16 nothing I can do, right?

17 MR. UNGER: It is only for ten days and after ten days
18 regardless whether we filed an appeal or not the banks would be 19 entitled to release the funds. What I am asking is that the 20 funds remain under restrained --

21 THE COURT: No, that is denied. I'm confident that 22 the ruling is correct. If you want to appeal, file your appeal
23 within ten days and ask the Court of Appeals to extend the 24 stay. I think that is more appropriate. Then they can decide
25 whether they think there is sufficient merit to warrant

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

13

654YEXPC

1 granting a further stay.

2 MR. UNGER: Thank you, your Honor.

3 The other item is in our papers we had asked for 4 certain discovery. I understand your Honor has already ruled,

654YEXPC.txt

5 but one of those items of discovery we had in mind to obtain
 6 would be discovery as to whether or not Novel has complied with 7 the requirements of all foreign companies that register to do
 8 business, and that would include filing a biannual information
 9 statement and filing tax returns with the New York State
 10 authorities, which I think is relevant, your Honor, to whether 11 or not the registration is actual and valid.

12 THE COURT: No, it's not. They are here, they got the 13 agent, they are registered, they concede they are subject to 14 jurisdiction, they are subject to jurisdiction. There is 15 nothing further to have discovery of, point one.

16 Point two, we had an extensive argument of this two 17 days ago and nobody suggested to me that a decision on this 18 should be deferred pending some further discovery or that this 19 discovery is somehow necessary to resolve this issue.
 20 Therefore, I went ahead and I resolved the issue. It is 21 resolved, it is over and done with.

22 If there remains or is to remain some action in this 23 court on the merits, well, then you will be entitled to 24 whatever discovery you are entitled to on the merits. It will 25 be the first occasion I am aware of where plaintiff tries to

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

14

654YEXPC

1 take discovering to prove it doesn't have jurisdiction in the 2 action.

3 If the underlying action is going to proceed, the 4 defendant has expressly consented to jurisdiction right here in 5 open court, has -- I don't know if we actually discussed this,
 6 but I think to the extent that we may be in a situation where
 7 the defendant hasn't actually been served, you are waiving
 8 service or accepting service or something, right?

9 MR. DUFFY: Accepting service, your Honor. We haven't
 10 formerly filed an answer, but if it is necessary we will do so.

11 THE COURT: So I don't think there is any issue
 12 anymore as to the defendant's amenability to suit, and if there
 13 is a suit to be had here, I'm not sure what that suit is since 14 both sides agree that the proper forum is London and the 15 defendant agrees to arbitrate in London. Either you will go
 16 there and do it or you will get an order compelling the 17 defendant to do it out of this court and I don't know what else
 18 is left.

19 I mean, there is no claim by the plaintiff, as I
 20 understand it, that this court should adjudicate the merits of 21 the dispute, there is only an issue whether the defendant has 22 to go to London and they are happy to go.

23 So I think there is nothing to have discovery about 24 and no case left, but as I say, if I misunderstand that in some 25 way you will let me know within ten days. So while you are

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

(212) 805-0300

15

654YEXPC

1 making up your mind to appeal; you can also make up your mind
 2 about that.

3 But it seems to me and I think it has been clear from 4 the beginning, and this is not any criticism, nothing improper
 5 about it, that this action was about getting the attachment.
 6 The attachment has now been vacated and its time for some other
 7 court if you want to bring it there to decide whether that's 8 correct or not. But at the end of the day, I think it would be
 9 irresponsible for me to grant a further stay because the whole

654YEXPC.txt

[*187] MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

October 12, 2007

RICHARD J. SULLIVAN, District Judge:

Plaintiff Centauri Shipping Ltd. ("Centauri") commenced the above-entitled action on June 5, 2007, seeking, inter alia, a writ of attachment pursuant to Rule B of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims. On that date, the Honorable Kenneth M. Karas, District Judge, signed an order permitting plaintiff to attach assets of defendants Western Bulk Carriers KS ("defendant" or "WBC KS"), Western Bulk Carriers AS ("WBC AS"), and Western Bulk AS (collectively, the "WBC Group"), in the amount of $ 15,350,796.00 (hereinafter, "the attachment order"). (See Order dated June 5, 2007.)

Subsequently, by order dated September 7, 2007, the Court vacated the attachment order (hereinafter, "the vacatur"). Plaintiff now moves, pursuant to Rule 62 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, [**2] to stay the vacatur during the pendency of the appeal of that order or, in the alternative, to stay the vacatur temporarily so that plaintiff may apply for a stay to the Second Circuit Court of Appeals. For the following reasons, the Court denies plaintiff's motion for a stay pending appeal, and orders a temporary stay pending resolution of plaintiff's application to the Court of Appeals.

I. BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Court presumes the parties' familiarity with the facts and procedural history of this action. Below, the Court briefly recites the facts necessary to resolve the instant motion: <sup>1</sup>

1 The facts recited herein are undisputed, unless otherwise noted.

On June 5, 2007, Centauri commenced this action by filing a complaint and a proposed ex parte order of attachment against WBC KS and two distinct corporate entities that co-own WBC KS. (Compl. P 3; Vangsnes Decl. P 10.) In support of the proposed attachment order, Centauri's counsel submitted an affirmation (the "June 5 affirmation") stating, inter alia, that:

Your affiant [plaintiff's counsel] has attempted to locate the defendants . . . within this District. As part of the investigation, my office has contacted the Division [**3] of Corporations of the New York Department of State and found no records indicating that defendants were either incorporated or licensed to do business in the State of New York. . . . I declare and state under the penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

On June 5, 2007, Judge Karas signed the ex parte attachment order. Thereafter, Centauri proceeded to attach assets of WBC KS found within the Southern District of New York (the "District") in the amount of $ 15,350,796.00. (Lyons Aff. dated Sept. 17, 2007 (hereinafter, "Lyons Aff."), P 2.) On June 15, 2007, upon WBC KS' motion, Judge Karas signed an order dissolving the attachment and directing WBC KS to post a bond in the amount equal to the attached assets (the "surety bond"). (Order dated June 15, 2007.)

Subsequently, on August 10, 2007, WBC KS moved to vacate the attachment order pursuant to Rule E of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims ("Rule E"). In its moving papers, WBC KS asserted that the above-quoted portion of the June 5 affirmation of plaintiff's [*188] counsel was demonstrably false, and that, in fact, WBC KS had been licensed as a foreign corporation [**4] in New York State since 2005 and was so licensed at the time that plaintiff sought and obtained the attachment order. (Lennon Decl. P 5.)

By letter dated August 16, 2007, plaintiff's counsel represented to the Court that, at the time he submitted the proposed attachment order and the June 5 affirmation, he had "knowledge that defendant [WBC KS] was registered" with the State as a foreign corporation. (Pl.'s Aug. 16, 2007 Ltr., at 2.) However, according to plaintiff's counsel, the false statements regarding WBC KS' registration were included in the June 5 affirmation due to a purported "clerical error" by plaintiff's counsel.<sup>2</sup> (Id.)

2 On September 12, 2007, the Court directed plaintiff's counsel to show cause as to why the Court should not impose sanctions on counsel pursuant to Rule 11(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, in light of counsel's submission of a demonstrably false affidavit. The issue of whether to impose sanctions on plaintiff's counsel is now pending before the Court.

On September 5, 2007, the undersigned heard oral argument regarding the motion to vacate.<sup>3</sup> (See Tr. of Proceedings on Sept. 5, 2007.) By oral decision on September 7, 2007, the Court granted WBC [**5] KS' motion to vacate the attachment and stated the reasons therefor on the record (the "vacatur decision"). (See Tr. of Proceedings on Sept. 7, 2007 (hereinafter, "Tr. of the Vacatur Decision").) On September 12, 2007, the Court issued the vacatur, lifting the attachment and directing plaintiff to return the surety bond to WBC KS after the expiration of ten days from the date of the vacatur.

3 This action was reassigned to the undersigned on September 4, 2007.

On September 17, 2007, plaintiff filed a notice of appeal of the vacatur with the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Also on September 17, 2007, plaintiff filed a motion with this Court to stay the vacatur pending appeal. On September 28, 2007, the Court heard oral argument regarding plaintiff's motion to stay. (See Tr. of Proceedings on Sept. 28, 2007.)

II. STANDARD OF REVIEW

As a threshold matter, the Court must determine the correct subsection of Rule 62 to apply to plaintiff's motion. In their submissions to the Court, the parties address plaintiff's motion as one made under subsection (d) of Rule 62. However, it is well-settled that subsection (d) applies exclusively to stays of money judgments, and permits the moving [**6] party to obtain a stay as of right upon the posting of a supersedeas bond. See, e.g., Perez & CIA, Inc., v. United States, 747 F.2d 813, 816 (1st Cir. 1984) (Breyer, J.) (observing that Rule 62(d) "is likely aimed at money judgments, the value of which can be calculated and secured with relative ease") (internal citation omitted); In re Tower Automotive, Inc., No. 06-CV-2105 (RWS), 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 49282, 2007 WL 1975447, at * 1-2 (S.D.N.Y. July 6, 2007) (finding that "Rule 62(d) is inapplicable" where "the [c]ourt's [o]pinion was not a money judgment, but rather a declaratory judgment which determined the scope of [a party's monetary] obligation"); see also Hebert v. Exxon Corp., 953 F.2d 936, 938 (5th Cir. 1992) (granting a Rule 62(d) stay only where the declaratory judgment required payment of "a specific sum of money"); Government Guar. Fund of Fin. v. Hyatt Corp., 167 F.R.D. 399, 400, 34 V.I. 274 (D.V.I. 1996) ("Although the issue appears not to have arisen very often, those courts to address it have limited the applicability of Rule 62(d) to appeals from money judgments or their equivalent.") (internal citations omitted).

Accordingly, the Court finds that subsection (c), rather than subsection (d), of [*189] Rule 62 should [**7] apply in this case. Rule 62(c) provides, in pertinent part:

When an appeal is taken from an interlocutory or final judgment granting, dissolving, or denying an injunction, the court in its discretion may suspend, modify, restore, or grant an injunction during the pendency of the appeal upon such terms as to bond or otherwise as it considers proper for the security of the rights of the adverse party.

In the instant case, it is clear that plaintiff's motion should be analyzed under subsection (c) because the vacatur effectively "lift[ed] . . . an injunction" which provided for the attachment of defendants' assets, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 62(c), and ordered plaintiff "to do" an affirmative act -- namely, to return the surety bond to defendant, see Donovan v. Fall River Foundry Co., 696 F.2d 524, 526 (7th Cir. 1982) ("The reference in Rule 62(d) to supersedeas bond suggests that had the framers thought about the point they would have limited the right to an automatic stay to cases where the judgment being appealed from was a 'money judgment.' . . . But this solution makes little sense as applied to an order to do, rather than an order to pay, whether or not the order to [**8] do is a conventional injunction."). See In re Tower Automotive, Inc., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 49282, 2007 WL 1975447, at *1-2; accord Perez & CIA, Inc., 747 F.2d at 816 (applying subsection (c) rather than subsection (d) to "[a] case in which a party seeks review of an agency's suspension order, . . . [because it] is more naturally viewed as a case involving an order to do, or not to do, something (that is, involving something like an injunction) rather than a case involving a money judgment") (internal citation omitted).

In any event, the Court notes that, although the parties specifically cite subsection (d) in their submissions, both characterize plaintiff's motion as an application for the Court to exercise its discretion to stay the vacatur pending appeal, and both present arguments relating to the factors for a discretionary stay under Rule 62(c). (See Pl.'s Mem. at 3; Defs.' Mem. at 3.)

III. DISCUSSION

A. The Relevant Factors

The factors relating to a discretionary stay under Rule 62(c) include:

(1) Whether the movant has demonstrated "a substantial possibility, although less than a likelihood, of success" on appeal;

(2) The risk of irreparable injury to the movant absent a stay;

(3) The lack of substantial harm [**9] to the non-movant if the stay is granted;

(4) The public interests that may be affected.

Hirschfeld v. Bd. of Elections, 984 F.2d 35, 39 (2d Cir. 1993) (internal citations omitted); Tower Automotive, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 49282, 2007 WL 1975447, at *1-2. In making such a determination, "[t]he Court treats these factors 'somewhat like a sliding scale.'" United States v. VISA U.S.A., Inc., No. 98-CV-7076 (BSJ), 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 58018, 2007 WL 2274866, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 7, 2007) (quoting Thapa v. Gonzales, 460 F.3d 323, 334 (2d Cir. 2006)). Thus, "the necessary level or degree of possibility of success will vary according to the court's assessment of the other stay factors." <sup>4</sup> Id. (quoting Thapa, 460 F.3d at 334) (additional internal quotation marks [*190] and citation omitted); see also Hayes v. City Univ. of New York, 503 F. Supp. 946, 962 (S.D.N.Y. 1980) ("Issuance of a stay pending appeal is discretionary and equitable . . .").

4 Defendant asserts that a movant's "failure to satisfy one prong of the standard for granting a stay pending appeal dooms the motion." (Defs.' Br. at 3 (quoting Covanta Onondaga Ltd. P'ship v. Onondaga County Resource Recovery Agency, No. 02-CV-492, 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20298, 2002 WL 31399797, at *2 (N.D.N.Y. Oct. 24, 2002)).) The Court [**10] notes that its review of relevant authority regarding the above-cited standard does not indicate that the movant's failure to satisfy one factor "dooms the motion." (Id.) Rather, as noted supra, it is well-settled that the above-cited factors are treated as a "sliding scale," wherein "more of one excuses less of the other." Thapa, 460 F.3d at 334 (citing Mohammed v. Reno, 309 F.3d 95, 100 (2d Cir. 2002)). In addition, the single district court case cited by defendant in support of this proposition, Covanta Onondaga, appears to have derived the "failure as to one, failure as to all" rule from a line of decisions addressing applications for stays under the Bankruptcy Rules. See Covanta Onondaga, 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20298, 2002 WL 31399797, at *2 (citing Green Point Bank v. Treiston, 188 B.R. 9, 12 (S.D.N.Y. 1995) (denying an application for a stay of a bankruptcy court order under Bankruptcy Rule 8005)). As such, the Court declines to apply the rule advanced by defendants, and, instead, adopts the "sliding scale" approach employed by the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and the overwhelming majority of district courts in this Circuit.

For the following reasons, the Court concludes, upon examination of these [**11] factors, that plaintiff's motion to stay the vacatur pending appeal should be denied.

1. Substantial Possibility of Success On Appeal

Plaintiff asserts that the vacatur was wrongly decided, and, more specifically, that there is a substantial possibility that the Court of Appeals will adopt plaintiff's position on the issue of whether defendant WBC KS can be "found" within the District for the purposes of Rule B.<sup>5</sup> Defendants respond that plaintiff has merely reiterated arguments that were previously rejected by this Court in the vacatur decision, and that the authorities relied on by the Court in that decision indicate that there is not a substantial possibility that plaintiff's position will prevail on appeal.

5 As discussed in the vacatur decision, Rule B provides that, for an order of attachment to issue, the plaintiff must establish that the defendant cannot be "found within the district." Rule B(1)(a). The Second Circuit has held that this requirement presents "a two-pronged inquiry: First, whether (the respondent) can be found within the district in terms of jurisdiction, and second, if so, whether it can be found for service of process." Seawind Compania, S.A. v. Crescent Line, Inc., 320 F.2d 580, 582 (2d Cir.1963) [**12] (internal quotation marks and citations omitted). The Court notes that plaintiff has conceded that the second prong of the Seawind test has been satisfied in this action. Specifically, it is undisputed that WBC KS has a designated agent for service of process in this District. However, the parties have vigorously disputed whether defendant was present for jurisdictional purposes within the District at the time of attachment. In the vacatur decision, the Court found that defendant was present for jurisdictional purposes.

The "key inquiry" with regard to the jurisdictional presence issue is "whether the defendant is amenable to suit within the district." <sup>6</sup> (See Tr. of Vacatur Decision, [*191] at 7.) Upon consideration of defendant's motion to vacate the attachment order, the Court conducted such an inquiry and concluded that WBC KS has unambiguously made itself amenable to suit within the District. (See id. at 3-8.) With regard to the instant motion, the Court adheres to its prior determination on this issue, and further finds, for the following reasons, that plaintiff's position -- namely, that defendant's amenability to suit in the District is insufficient, by itself, to establish defendant's [**13] presence here -- does not present a "substantial" possibility of success on appeal.

6 As a threshold matter, the Court notes that there is a split of authority among district courts in this circuit as to the central issue in this action -- namely, whether defendant's registration in New York State as a foreign corporation and its consent to this Court's jurisdiction, taken together, are sufficient to establish under Rule B that defendant can be "found" for jurisdictional purposes within the District. Compare Express Sea Transport Corp., v. Novel Commodities S.A., No. 06-CV-2404 (GEL) (Tr. of Oral Decision issued on May 4, 2006) (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (finding that the defendant's registration as a foreign corporation in New York State and its consent to the court's jurisdiction were sufficient to establish that it "can be found within the district for the purposes of jurisdiction"), with Erne Shipping Inc. v. HBC Hamburg Bulk Carriers GmbH & Co. KG, 409 F. Supp. 2d 427, 438 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) ("[W]e do not consider such filing to be sufficient to make a showing that a defendant is 'found' within the district."). Nevertheless, notwithstanding the divergent authority on this issue, the Court finds, [**14] for the reasons set forth herein and for the reasons stated on the record in the vacatur decision, that plaintiff has failed to establish a possibility of success on appeal.

In evaluating the jurisdictional presence factor under Rule B, the Second Circuit and the majority of district courts in this Circuit have focused principally upon that party's amenability to suit rather than the party's economic and physical activities in the district at issue. In Integrated Container, Inc. v. Starlines Container Shipping, Ltd., 476 F. Supp. 119, 123 (S.D.N.Y. 1979), Judge Leval, sitting on the district court, held that the defendant could be "found" within the district for jurisdictional purposes based on, inter alia, the defendant's registration as a licensed foreign corporation within New York State and an agreement in which the defendant expressly consented to "the jurisdiction of the courts of New York." <sup>7</sup> More recently, the Second Circuit declined to discuss specifically the presence factor, but, instead, cited Integrated Container for the proposition that district courts have not "experienced any confusion in its application." Aqua Stoli Shipping Ltd. v. Gardner Smith Pty Ltd., 460 F.3d 434, 445 n.4 (2d Cir. 2006). [**15] Indeed, the court in Aqua Stoli specifically characterized the district court's opinion in Integrated Container as "explaining the [presence] requirement." Aqua Stoli, 460 F.3d at 445 n.4.

7 The court in Integrated Container also relied on the fact that the defendant had entered into a third agreement which "called for submission to arbitration in New York with New York law to apply." 476 F. Supp. at 123. In addition, the Court notes that, ultimately, the Integrated Con- tainer court declined to vacate the maritime attachment in that case because the defendant did not satisfy the service of process prong of the Seawind test. By contrast, in the instant case, as noted supra, it is undisputed that WBC KS has satisfied the service of process prong of the Seawind test.

Plaintiff argues that the court in Integrated Container specifically rejected the "notion . . . that an agent in the district over whom personal jurisdiction could be gained . . . was alone sufficient to meet the jurisdictional presence prong under Rule B." (Pl.'s Mem. at 7.) Instead, according to plaintiff, the court in Integrated Container "required something more than the mere presence of an agent in the district" for the [**16] purposes of the jurisdictional presence factor. (Id.) However, plaintiff offers an overly narrow view of the scope of the court's holding in Integrated Container regarding the jurisdictional presence factor. Rather, in Integrated Container, the court held that the jurisdictional presence factor is satisfied either where the defendant's "activity in the district" or its "contacts with the district . . . permit the court to exercise in personam jurisdiction over the defendant." 476 F. Supp. at 122. Applying this standard, the court found that the defendant's registration as a foreign corporation in New York State and its consent via contract to the court's jurisdiction and to arbitration within New York State were sufficient to establish the defendant's jurisdictional presence in the district at issue. See id. at 123.

Similarly, in this case, it is undisputed that, as noted supra, WBC KS is a registered foreign corporation within the State of New York and, as such, under well-settled principles of New York State law, WBC KS has consented to general jurisdiction in the courts of the state, and, [*192] consequently, in this Court. *See Speed v. Pelican Resort N.V. No. 91-CV-7686 (SWK), 1992 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8278, 1992 WL 147646, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. June 16, 1992) [**17]* (finding, with regard to a Netherlands Antilles corporation, that "it is clear that 'if a foreign corporation is authorized to do business in this state, a court is justified in inferring that it is doing business so that it is subject to jurisdiction of the courts.'") (quoting 14 N.Y. Jur. 2d, Business Relationships § 522 (1981)); *accord Iyalla v. TRT Holdings, Inc., No. 04-CV-8114 (NRB), 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14913, 2005 WL 1765707, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. July 25, 2005)* ("[A]ny corporation registered to do business within the state is subject to personal jurisdiction in the state."); *Obabueki v. IBM, Nos. 99-CV-11262, 99-CV-12486 (AGS), 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 11810, 2001 WL 921172, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 14, 2001)*). Furthermore, it is beyond doubt that WBC KS has specifically consented, on the record, to the jurisdiction of this Court for the purposes of any and all proceedings relating to this action. * Accordingly, based on the close similarity of the facts relating to the presence issue in this case with those found in Integrated Container, the fact that the Second Circuit has recently cited with approval the analysis of that issue by the district court in Integrated Container, and, as set forth in the vacatur decision, this Court's prior determination [**18] that the controlling factor with regard to jurisdictional presence is the defendant's amenability to suit in the District, the Court finds that plaintiff's position does not present a substantial possibility of success on appeal.

8 Defendant's counsel stated such consent in two appearances before the Court: during argument regarding the vacatur and, once again, during argument regarding the instant motion to stay. (See Tr. of Vacatur Decision, at 7; Tr. of Proceedings on Sept. 28, 2007, at 12.)

2. The Risk of Irreparable Injury to Plaintiff

Plaintiff asserts that, absent a stay of the vacatur, there is a significant risk of irreparable injury to plaintiff. Specifically, plaintiff asserts that, absent a stay of the vacatur, WBC KS may withdraw its registration as a licensed foreign corporation in New York State, thus preventing this Court and/or the Court of Appeals from exercising jurisdiction over WBC KS. In addition, plaintiff argues that, if WBC KS is permitted to remove the surety bond, WBC KS may subsequently experience a financial downturn which may, in the absence of the surety bond, frustrate plaintiff's efforts to collect on any future money judgment obtained by plaintiff against [**19] defendant. The Court rejects both of plaintiff's arguments and, instead, finds that, absent a stay, there is little risk that plaintiff will suffer irreparable injury that cannot be compensated by money damages.

a. Loss of Jurisdiction Over Defendant

The Court rejects plaintiff's assertion that defendant's de-registration as a licensed foreign corporation in New York would somehow prevent this Court and/or the Court of Appeals from exercising jurisdiction over defendant. As an initial matter, the Court notes that plaintiff has failed to offer any evidence that defendant intends to de-register, and defendant vigorously asserts its intention to maintain its current registration status. However, even assuming arguendo that defendant is likely to de-register and, subsequently, remove its assets from the District, it is beyond doubt that this Court and the Court of Appeals would retain jurisdiction over this action.

In Republic National Bank of Miami v. United States, 506 U.S. 80, 87-88, 113 S. Ct. 554, 121 L. Ed. 2d 474 (1992), the Supreme Court, applying admiralty principles to a civil forfeiture proceeding, <sup>9</sup> found [**193] that, while a district court must have jurisdiction over a res to initiate an in rem action, it need not maintain [**20] continuous control of the res to maintain jurisdiction of the action. The Court observed:

Stasis is not a general prerequisite to the maintenance of jurisdiction. Jurisdiction over the person survives a change in circumstances, Leman v. Krentler-Arnold Hinge Last Co., 284 U.S. 448, 454, 52 S. Ct. 238, 76 L. Ed. 389, 1932 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 564 (1932) ("[A]fter a final decree a party cannot defeat the jurisdiction of the appellate tribunal by removing from the jurisdiction, as the proceedings on appeal are part of the cause," citing Nations v. Johnson, 65 U.S.C. (24 How.) 195, 16 L. Ed. 628 (1861)), as does jurisdiction over the subject matter, Louisville, N.A. & C.R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U.S. 552, 566, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. Ed. 1081 (1899) (midsuit change in the citizenship of a party does not destroy diversity jurisdiction); St. Paul Mercury Indemnity Co. v. Red Cab Co., 303 U.S. 283, 289-290, 58 S. Ct. 586, 82 L. Ed. 845 (1938) (jurisdiction survives reduction of amount in controversy). Nothing in the nature of in rem jurisdiction suggests a reason to treat it differently.

Republic Nat'l Bank, 506 U.S. at 87-88.

9 28 U.S.C. § 2461(b) directs federal courts to conduct civil forfeiture proceedings in a manner "as near as may be to proceedings in admiralty."

In the context of maritime attachments, at least one [**21] circuit has, not surprisingly, read the holding in Republic National Bank to "eliminate any requirement on a party seeking to institute a maritime attachment to obtain a stay or post a supersedeas bond to preserve the district court's jurisdiction over the garnished funds while [that party] appealed the release of the garnished funds." Stevedoring Servs. of Am. v. Ancora Transp., N.V., 59 F.3d 879, 882 (9th Cir. 1995) ("We conclude that the district court's release of the garnished funds . . . did not divest the court of jurisdiction over the res.")<sup>10</sup>; see also Ventura Packers, Inc. v. F/V Jeanine Kathleen, 424 F.3d 852, 860, 861 (9th Cir. 2005) ("In short, in rem or quasi in rem jurisdiction remains throughout the course of an appeal, as long as jurisdiction was properly obtained at the initiation of the action. Otherwise, the prevailing party could frustrate the losing party's appeal by transferring the res out of the district court's jurisdiction, a practice to which [t]he Supreme Court objected in no uncertain terms in Republic National Bank." (internal quotation marks and citation omitted).

10 The court in Stevedoring Services rejected as immaterial the lone fact that could have [**22] served to undermine the application of the Republic National Bank holding in the context of maritime attachments; specifically, the court refused to distinguish the Supreme Court's holding based upon the fact that the forfeiture action at issue in Republic National Bank was an in rem proceeding and that maritime attachments are quasi in rem proceedings. See Stevedoring Servs., 59 F.3d at 882-83 ("[T]his difference suggests no reason why we should distinguish the Supreme Court's decision in [Republic National Bank].").

Here, the Court adopts the sound reasoning of the Ninth Circuit in Stevedoring Services in applying the holding of Republic National Bank to the maritime attachment context, and, as such, concludes that defendant's de-registration, and the subsequent removal of defendant's assets from the District, will not divest this Court or the Court of Appeals of jurisdiction over defendant. Accordingly, the Court rejects the alleged injury regarding the loss of jurisdiction over defendant as a basis for a stay.

b. Plaintiff's Inability to Enforce Money Judgments Against Defendant

Plaintiff also asserts that "the loss of the surety bond [posted by defendant] in this [*194] matter would be [**23] an irreparable injury, since there is a reasonable chance that [defendant] may not be able to satisfy" future money judgments obtained by plaintiff against defendant. (Pl.'s Mem. at 14.) The Court rejects this alleged injury as a basis for a stay pending appeal. Instead, the Court finds that the monetary injury alleged by plaintiff is not the type of injury that may justify a stay of the vacatur pending appeal.

"As a general matter, because monetary injury can be estimated and compensated, the likelihood of such injury usually does not constitute irreparable harm." Brenntag Int'l Chems., Inc. v. Bank of India, 175 F.3d 245, 249 (2d Cir. 1999) (citing Jackson Dairy, Inc. v. H.P. Hood & Sons, Inc., 596 F.2d 70, 72 (2d Cir. 1979) (per curiam); see also Ford v. Reynolds, 316 F.3d 351, 355 (2d Cir. 2003) ("To establish irreparable harm, the injury alleged 'must be one requiring a remedy of more than mere money damages.'") (quoting Tucker Anthony Realty Corp. v. Schlesinger, 888 F.2d 969, 975 (2d Cir. 1989)); E.E.O.C. v. Local 638, No. 71-CV-2877 (RLC), 1995 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 7756, 1995 WL 355589, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. June 7, 1995) ("Irreparable injury means 'the kind of injury for which money cannot compensate,' and therefore [**24] "[a] monetary loss will not suffice unless the movant provides evidence of damage[] that cannot be rectified by financial compensation."') (quoting Sperry Int'l Trade, Inc. v. Gov't of Israel, 670 F.2d 8, 12 (2d Cir. 1982), and Tucker Anthony Realty Corp., 888 F.2d at 975). However, "courts have excepted from the general rule regarding monetary injury situations involving obligations owed by insolvents." Brenntag Int'l Chems., Inc., 175 F.3d at 250 (collecting cases). Accordingly, monetary injury may suffice to establish irreparable harm in situations "where the party that might ultimately be ordered to pay the monetary damages is insolvent or facing imminent bankruptcy, or is in a perilous financial state." Bridgeport, Port Jefferson Steamboat Co. v. Bridgeport Port Auth., No. Civ. A. 3:03-CV-599 (CFD), 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6643, 2004 WL 840140, at *3 (D. Conn. April 15, 2004) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted); accord Sea Carriers Corp. v. Empire Programs, Inc., No. 04-CV-7395 (RWS), 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 83843, 2006 WL 3354139, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 20, 2006) ("Monetary loss therefore will not suffice unless the movant shows damage that cannot be rectified by financial compensation . . . . One such exception is where the party [**25] to be enjoined is shown to be insolvent or imminently insolvent."); Mitsubishi Power Sys., Inc. v. Shaw Group, Inc., No. 04-CV-1251 (RMB), 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 4125, 2004 WL 527047, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. March 16, 2004) ("Courts have generally applied this limited exception where insolvency is imminent.").

Here, it is beyond doubt that the injuries alleged by plaintiff are not ones requiring a remedy of more than money damages: plaintiff specifically seeks to ensure that it will be able to collect on money judgments against WBC KS.

Furthermore, plaintiff has failed to establish that any judgment against defendant WBC KS would otherwise be uncollectible. Plaintiff has not asserted that WBC KS is currently insolvent, and the Court rejects as mere speculation plaintiff's assertions regarding the perilous financial condition of WBC KS. Indeed, although plaintiff has shown that WBC KS has experienced some financial losses within the past four years, it is clear that WBC KS retains sizable assets and, as of August 31, 2007, had generated pre-tax profits of $ 20.4 million during the current financial year. (Vangsnes Decl. PP 11, 15.) As such, WBC KS does not appear to be experiencing the financial distress that other courts [**26] have required before applying the "imminent insolvency" exception to the monetary injury rule. See, e.g., Mitsubishi Power Sys., 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 4125, 2004 WL 527047, at *4 [*195] (citing, inter alia, the following cases: Meringolo v. Power2Ship, No. 03-CV-4476 (PKL), 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12997, 2003 WL 21750009, at *3-5 (S.D.N.Y. July 28, 2003) (denying preliminary injunction and declining to apply the imminent insolvency exception even though the defendant company had "generated almost no revenue from its inception [and] has never earned a profit since its formation," and its "independent auditors have qualified the company's financial statements as a 'going concern.'"); General Transp. Servs. Inc. v. Kemper Ins. Co., No. 5:03-CV-620, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12630, 2003 WL 21703635, at *3-4 (N.D.N.Y. June 25, 2003) (denying a preliminary injunction and finding that "although Plaintiff arguably raises questions about [the defendant's] present financial condition, its assertions fall far short of establishing that [the defendant] is in 'imminent' danger of becoming insolvent," even where the defendant's credit rating had been downgraded to "C++" and the defendant had defaulted on $ 700 million of its notes and laid off 1,000 of its 7,000 employees)). Accordingly, the [**27] Court finds that plaintiff has fallen short of establishing WBC KS' imminent insolvency so as to establish a risk of irreparable injury. Therefore, because "[t]he possibility that adequate compensatory or other corrective relief will be available at a later date . . . weighs heavily against a claim of irreparable harm," Sampson v. Murray, 415 U.S. 61, 90, 94 S. Ct. 937, 39 L. Ed. 2d 166 (1974), the Court rejects plaintiff's alleged monetary injury as a basis for a stay of the vacatur pending appeal. <sup>11</sup>

11 Plaintiff also cites to Swift Co. Packers v. Compania Colombiana Del Caribe, S.A., 339 U.S. 684, 689, 70 S. Ct. 861, 94 L. Ed. 1206 (1950), in support of its argument regarding irreparable harm. Specifically, plaintiff cites Swift for the proposition that "[a]ppellate review of the order dissolving the attachment at a later date would be an empty rite after the vessel had been released and the restoration of the attachment only theoretically possible." Id. at 689. The Court finds that Swift, and the quotation therefrom, are not relevant to the irreparable harm inquiry in the instant case. Swift addressed the issue of whether "the order vacating the attachment was not a final order and therefore not reviewable" by the appellate court. Id. at 688. [**28] By contrast, the issue here is whether equity favors a stay of the vacatur pending appeal. Furthermore, the circumstances of Swift -- involving the attachment of a vessel -- contrast significantly with those of the instant case, wherein the vacatur relates exclusively to the release of security posted by defendants. Thus, as discussed herein, the Court finds that the concern enunciated in Swift is absent from the instant case -- there is no significant risk that plaintiff's appeal will prove an "empty rite," at least where plaintiff does not seek to attach a vessel and the Court may direct defendant to post security following an appeal, if necessary.

3. Substantial Harm to Defendant

Defendant asserts that, if a stay is entered, it will suffer substantial harm in the form of the continued cost of maintaining the surety bond during the pendency of an appeal, and the consequent loss of "the use of a percentage of its credit facility." (Defs.' Mem. at 9-10.) In response, plaintiff asserts that a stay will not result in substantial harm to defendant because plaintiff is prepared to post a bond to cover the cost of maintaining the surety bond during the appeal. (Pl.'s Mem. at 14-15.) The Court [**29] finds that this factor weighs in favor of granting a stay. Thus, assuming arguendo that plaintiff could post a sufficient bond to satisfy the Court, any financial harm suffered by defendant is unlikely to be substantial.

4. The Public Interest

Plaintiff asserts that the public's interest in ensuring the enforcement of foreign judgments -- such as the judgment plaintiff expects to obtain against defendant in the courts of Angola -- favors a stay of the vacatur pending appeal. The Court rejects this argument. Initially, the Court notes that plaintiff fails to cite any authority [**196] in support of the alleged public interest. In addition, it is beyond doubt that plaintiff has yet to obtain a judgment against defendant in the Angolan action. As such, the Court finds that plaintiff presents mere speculation as to the presence of a public interest favoring a stay of the vacatur and, thus, could reject plaintiff's argument on that basis alone.

However, even assuming arguendo that there is a public interest in the enforcement of foreign judgments and that plaintiff will eventually obtain such a judgment, plaintiff has failed, as discussed supra, to establish that it will be unable to collect on any future judgments obtained against WBC KS in this action. Therefore, there is no basis for this Court to find that such an interest would be adversely effected by denying a stay of the vacatur.

B. Weighing the Factors

On balance, the above-cited factors weigh against granting a stay of the vacatur pending appeal. Although the factor concerning substantial harm to defendant slightly favors a stay, the remaining factors weigh heavily against a stay of the vacatur. First, the factor regarding plaintiff's possibility of success on appeal weighs against a stay; that is, plaintiff's possibility of success on appeal, although not insignificant, does not appear to be "substantial." Second, most significantly, the factor concerning irreparable injury overwhelmingly weighs against a stay of the vacatur; as discussed supra, plaintiff has failed to establish any legally cognizable type of irreparable injury sufficient to justify a stay pending appeal. Finally, plaintiff has failed to establish any public interest favoring a stay.

C. Plaintiff's Request for a Temporary Stay

The Court grants plaintiff's request for a temporary stay of the vacatur so that plaintiff may apply to the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit for a stay pending appeal, pursuant to Rule 8(a) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure. See, e.g., In re Albicocco, No. 06-CV-3409 (JFB), 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 65359, 2006 WL 2620464, at *5 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 13, 2006) (denying a stay pending appeal under Rule 62, but granting a temporary stay so that a party could apply to the Court of Appeals for a stay); Motorola Credit Corp. v. Uzan, 275 F. Supp. 2d 519, 525 (S.D.N.Y. 2003) (same); [**30] Paris v. (1) Dep't of Nat'l Store Branch (1) Vietnam, No. 99-CV-8607 (NRB), 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8331, 2000 WL 777904, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. June 15, 2000) (same); LNC Investments, Inc. v. Republic of Nicaragua, No. 96-CV-6360 (JFK) 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 7738, 2000 WL 729216, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. June 6, 2000) (same). If plaintiff fails to apply to the Court of Appeals by Friday, October 19, 2007, the temporary stay shall expire. However, if plaintiff applies for a stay pending appeal with the Court of Appeals before that deadline, this Court's temporary stay will remain in effect until the stay motion before the Second Circuit is decided.

IV. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, plaintiff's motion for a stay of the vacatur pending appeal is DENIED. Plaintiff's request for a temporary stay of the vacatur pending the Court of Appeals' resolution of a motion to stay is GRANTED.
